THE PROPOSITION

Visibility is the by-product. Student value is the work.

SOAS EIFS brings together students exploring Islamic finance, ethical investing, banking, markets, technology and enterprise. We build partnerships around a named outcome: what will a student understand, access or become able to do afterwards?

A PARTNERSHIP PASSES THREE TESTS

01

Useful

The student receives knowledge, access, practice or a resource that remains useful after the event.

02

Credible

Claims, speakers and outputs are specific enough to stand up to questions and follow-up.

03

Visible

The public record shows what happened, who contributed and what comes next.

CURRENT PORTFOLIO

Three models. One standard.

01 · CHARITY CONNECTION

Bidaya

Connect ethical-finance questions to practical humanitarian work across education, water, relief, housing and welfare.

02 · EDUCATION PARTNERSHIP

Nashex

Move students from passive reading to active practice through quizzes, mock exams, flashcards and visible learning progress.

03 · OPEN FLAGSHIP BRIEF

Student Summit 2027

Shape programme, access or practical learning while the proposed London flagship still has room for serious partner input.

A PRACTICAL FIRST CONVERSATION

Bring one idea.
Leave with a clearer brief.

A 20-minute partnership call is enough to test the audience, contribution, format and student outcome. Nothing is announced until the information and delivery responsibilities are clear.
